BIG EPWORTH LEAGUE GATHERING TO BE HELD HERE

JUNE 21st AND 22d WILL BRING MANY TO RICHMOND

An Interesting and Varied Programme Has Been Made Up, and Many Distinguished Speakers From Various Parts of the Country Will Deliver Addresses. Some of Those Who Will Speak and the Subjects They Have Selected.

REV. W. B. BEAUCHAMP.

REV. DR. S. A. STEEL.

REV. E. H. RAWLINGS.

W. REGINALD WALKER.

REV. JOHN T. BOSMAN.

REV. DR. W. V. TUDOR.

REV. DR. W. J. YOUNG.

It was John Wesley, the founder of Methodism and one of the world's great reformers, whose shibboleth was a "league offensive and defensive of Christian hearts to win the world for Christ." This sacred soul is now enjoying the rich reward of a life's labor of love, but the influences of his ministrations have left their mark upon the century, and today over two millions of young Methodist hearts are banded together in a glorious league, having for its motto, "All for Christ" and "Lift Up Your Voice."

The Virginia contingent will hold their third State Conference in Richmond June 21st and 22d, and active preparations are being made for the occasion upon which so many hearts are eagerly set.

The State officers of the Virginia League are: Rev. W. B. Beauchamp, president; Rev. W. H. Joyce, first vice-president; Rev. W. C. Cadden, second vice-president; Rev. Ernest Stevens, third vice-president.

Mr. W. Reginald Walker, secretary; Mr. Joseph B. Gregory, treasurer.

THE COMMITTEES.
The following are the chairmen of the local committees of arrangements: E. W. Bundy, general chairman; R. H. Willis, recording secretary; Frank L. Wells, Entertainment; W. L. Wingfield, Reception; R. L. Bailey, Finance; M. L. Willis, Programme; W. M. Bickers, Press; J. H. B. Post, Ushers; William A. Arrell, Decorations; S. L. Hawkes, Badges; J. P. Jones, Transportation; Prof. J. L. Mitchell, musical director.

These committees have been faithfully at work for some weeks, and the indications are that the coming conference will be one of the best gatherings of young Christian workers that Richmond has ever seen.

The main session of the conference will be held in Centenary Methodist Church, but there will be meetings in other churches and at least one great mass-meeting at the Academy of Music.

SOME PROMINENT SPEAKERS.
Among the celebrated divines who will address the conference are Bishop Warren A. Candler, of Atlanta, Ga., president of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Bishop Candler is a magnificent specimen of physical manhood, and is thoroughly consecrated. His methods and style of preaching, loyalty and tactful leadership have combined to make his name a household word in Southern Methodist homes. A prominent journal thus speaks of him: "There is nothing of the ordinary or commonplace about him. In mental endowment he is the peer of any man in the American pulpit. In his perception of the truth and in his delivery of it he is unique and original. His methods and style of preaching are peculiarly his own, and in his treatment of a subject he cuts right into the heart of it and brings out things both new and old, especially new."

Dr. J. R. Lambeth, of Nashville, is another celebrated minister, and editor of Review of Missions of the Southern Church; Rev. P. L. Cobb, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board; Dr. Alonzo Monk, of Tennessee; Rev. George R. Stewart, the great temperance champion; Dr. C. R. Reid, Superintendent of Christian Missions; Dr. A. Coke Smith, of Norfolk, and former General Secretary of Epworth Leagues; Dr. S. A. Steel, Dr. Wm. G. Starr, and Dr. W. J. Young, are among others who will be present at the Conference.

The Conference music will be of a high order. Prof. J. L. Mitchell is now training a picked choir of one hundred voices for the occasion, and the choir will be a striking feature.

THE PROGRAMME.
The following is the programme, which is, of course, subject to some few alterations:
Thursday evening, June 14th.—Centenary Church.—8 P. M., Devotional exercises; 8:15 P. M., address of welcome, Rev. J. T. Bosman, of Park-Place Church; 8:30 P. M., response, Rev. A. Coke Smith, D. D., of Norfolk, Va.; 8:45 P. M., address, "Cuba, Our New Mission Field," Bishop Warren A. Candler; special music by the Conference choir, under direction of Prof. Mitchell.
Friday, June 22d.—Centenary Church.—9:30 A. M., Devotional service, Rev. W. V. Tudor, D. D., of Richmond; 10:00 A. M., The Devotional Department—(1) Its place and value, Rev. E. L. Akers, Lynchburg, Va.; (2) How to have a live meeting, Rev. Geo. F. Green, Ettricks, Va.; (3) What can the lookout committee do, W. K. Perkins, Lynchburg, Va.; co-operation in mission work, Geo. H. Wiley; "The Southern Conference of Leagues," by Rev. E. H. Rawlings, Norfolk, Va.; 11 o'clock, "Our Young People's Movement to Date," Rev. S. A. Steel, D. D.; 12 o'clock, "History of the Orphanage Movement," S. S. Lambeth, Jr., Norfolk; 12:30 P. M., Virginia Conference Orphanage, Rev. W. J. Young, D. D., Lynchburg. Dinner, 3:30 P. M., Missionary Conference, Rev. W. R. Lambeth presiding; 5 P. M., visiting points

CRICKET CLUB

IS ORGANIZED

It is Composed of Manv Really Famous Players.

MR. W. R. TRIGG IS PRESIDENT

Mr. John Adams and Mr. A. L. Forbes, Both Broadly Known in the Cricket World, Are Now Living in Richmond.

There are now in the city a number of the most famous cricket players in the country, and those interested in the game will be grateful to learn of the organization of the Richmond Cricket Club, largely through the instrumentality of that genial Scotchman, Mr. A. L. Forbes, who was for a number of years professional to the famous Clackmannan County Eleven, in Scotland. Cricket, though played largely around Philadelphia and New York, has been introduced in the South until recently, but with a membership of fifty enthusiasts and the acquisition of the fair grounds, through the kindness of the Richmond Traction Company, where professional games and matches will be played, the Henrico County Eleven expects later on to be able to hold their own with visiting teams.

HOW IT IS PLAYED.
To those not familiar with the game, a word of explanation may prove of interest.

The game is played by two teams, each team consisting of eleven men. Wickets are pitched twenty-two yards apart, with a batting and bowling ground. The object of the bowler is to hit his opponent's wicket, or to deliver the ball in such a manner that the batsman in the opposing team will strike it in the direction of the fielders, who endeavor to catch the ball before it strikes the ground, in which case the man is out. The ball must be bowled, that is overhand, underhand or round, and not pitched or thrown, as in baseball.

A hard leather ball is used, weighing about 5-4 ounces. When ten of the opposing team have had their turn at the bat, (only one inning being given each player), the other team takes their innings, and so the game continues. The side making the greatest number of runs wins the game. Though somewhat uninteresting to spectators at first, after seeing the game once or twice, it is readily appreciated.

THE SCIENCE.
The science of the game is seen principally in the bowlers and batsmen's departments, some bowlers being able to break the ball more than three feet, while the others, cutting and gliding to leg strokes of a good batsman are really wonderful. The game, to be appreciated, has to be seen, of course, and later on in the season when the wicket has been prepared, and the team has had practice, the Richmond Cricket Club will give a good account of themselves. Mr. William R. Trigg has taken the presidency of the club, while Mr. Greenwood, of the Traction Iron Works, along with Mr. G. A. Niles, and Mr. W. H. Woodley, are the vice-presidents. The team will be captained by Mr. A. L. Forbes, who will have as vice-captain Mr. John Adams, who has had the honor of representing New York in three international games with the Oxford, Cambridge and Australian elevens.

Only last summer he played against the famous Indian Prince team.

Everything points to a successful season, and if supported by the public in the first sporting venture at the Fair Grounds, the Traction Company is prepared to level and clean a greater part of the grounds, and in time make it an ideal recreation spot, where tennis, golf and other amusements might be enjoyed.

Mr. S. N. Adams, No. 151, East Main Street, is secretary of the club, while Mr. W. C. Wilkinson will act as corresponding secretary and will be glad to hear from any who would like to become members.

Property Transfers.
The following property transfers were recorded yesterday at the Clerk's Office: Richmond: James Lewis Anderson, special commissioner, to H. S. Wallerstein, 30 9 1/2 feet on east side Twenty-seventh Street, 100 feet north of Q Street, and 17 1/2 feet on east side Twenty-seventh Street, 122 feet north of Q Street.
